

Mini-Medical School for the general public

Autoimmune Diseases: When the Body Attacks Itself

FREE

Monday, February 5, 2018 from 6:30pm - 8:45pm

Foothills Campus, Libin Theatre
Cumming School of Medicine, University of Calgary

No pre-requisites required! Open to the public, from high school students to retirees.

Dr. Dianne Mosher

Professor of Medicine and the Chief of the Division of Rheumatology at the University of Calgary, past president of the Canadian Rheumatology and recipient of the Governor General of Canada's Queen Elizabeth Diamond Jubilee Medal to honor her significant work in the area of arthritis care in Canada.

Dr. Marvin Fritzler University of Calgary Alumni PHD'71, MD'74

Professor in the Cumming School of Medicine whose clinical and research activity is devoted to biomarker identification and autoantibody testing. Dr. Fritzler has served as past Chair of the Alberta Research and Innovation Authority and is Director of Mitogen International Advanced Diagnostics at the University of Calgary.

REGISTER ONLINE AT WWW.SNYDER.UCALGARY.CA/MINIMEDICAL

There is no cost to attend a lecture but online registration is required.

UNIVERSITY OF CALGARY
CUMMING SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

We look forward to seeing you at our free lecture.

For more information, contact Elizabeth Saquibal, Operations Coordinator at (403) 220-4132 or ejsaquib@ucalgary.ca